The Infrastructures of the Future: Basic Science in Dynamic Regions
Preliminary schedule of the symposium
17-18 October 2017

Tuesday 17 October

11.30-12.45 Lunch with Vice-Chancellor Lund University (by invitation)

13.00-17.00 Symposium, part 1: Science-Technology-Innovation
Science depends on relevant infrastructures. Simultaneously, infrastructures stake out the future boundaries of science and innovation. How can research infrastructures be created that foster excellent research while also promoting innovation?

13.00-13.10 Eva Krutmeijer, Moderator
13.10-13.40 Stacey Sörenson, Deputy Vice-Chancellor Lund University
13.40-13.50 Questions
13.50-14.20 Chi-Chang Kao, Director of SLAC National Accelerator Laboratory
14.20-14.30 Questions
14.30-15.00 Coffee break
15.00-15.35 Peter Tindemans, Secretary General of EuroScience
15.35-15.45 Questions
15.45-16.20 Ursula Keller, Professor at ETH Zürich
16.20-16.30 Questions
16.30-17.00 Break

17.00-20.00 Symposium, part 2: Research and Innovation for the Industry of the Future
Research and innovation don’t end with the creation of ideas and know-how. We will discuss what is needed to create a flourishing ecosystem that fosters new companies, creates jobs, builds and attracts competence, and that integrates research, development and production.

17.00-17.10 Lisa Kirsebom, Moderator
17.10-17.35 Curtis R Carlson, former President and CEO of Stanford Research Institute International (SRI)
17.35-17.50 Magnus Ryde, Chairman of the Board of Sol Voltaics AB
17.50-18.05 Allan Larsson, Chief Negotiator for ESS and former Minister of Finance
18.05-18.30 Heike Riel, Dr., IBM Fellow and Executive Director of IBM Research Frontiers Institute
18.30-19.00 Break
19.00-20.00 Panel Discussion, Lisa Kirsebom
Curtis R Carlson
Magnus Ryde
Allan Larsson
Heike Riel
Charlotte Brogren, Director General of Vinnova
Björn O Nilsson, President of the Royal Swedish Academy of Engineering Sciences
20.00-21.00 Mingle
Wednesday 18 October
