ABOUT THE PERFORMANCE

Scandal! is the name of Besatta Teatern’s performance about the female Nobel laureates in physics, chemistry and medicine. The production is an hour-long, humorous and musical story about the obstacles and push-backs these women have encountered over the years and what it looks like today.

The play has been a success at numerous theaters around Sweden and also at the Nobel Museum.

In Scandal! we get to meet six of history’s female scientists who have received the Nobel Prize and a couple that were left without. We ask questions about structures and habitual patterns, show off prejudices, act out injustices and sing songs about scandals – all mixed with hard facts and statistics.

The performance Scandal! wants to raise questions and create discussion about the old structures that still exist and explore the opportunities for change in the future.

ABOUT THE DRAMA GROUP

Åsa Karlin and Tess Paulsen are actors with more than 25 years of experience of theatre, film and television. They have both worked in several theatres e.g. The Royal Dramatic Theatre, The City Theatre of Stockholm and The Swedish Touring Theatre. Besatta Teatern’s mission is to tell stories about historical women in today’s perspective.
